Her Body Identified by Her Brother, with Whom She Lived in Brooklyn-She Is Supposed to Mave Been Temporarily In-same Owing to an Attack of the Grip. The body of the woman who showherself with revolver in the right temple a little after 7 o'clock on Friday evening near the West Seventy-second street entrance to Central Park was identified yesterday morning at the Morgue by Luther F. Stevens as that of his sister, Mary Elizabeth Stevens.

Mr. Stevens, who is a druggist, has lived recently with his two unmarried sisters, Mary and Louise, at 158 South Portland avenue. Brooklyn. Miss Stevens, who was 41 years old, was an artist. She painted china and crockery

Until three weeks ago Mr. Stevens and his two sisters lived at 141 Baltic street. They then moved to their present address. While attending to the packing and unpacking of the furniture Miss Stevens caught a cold which developed into the grip. She was ill for two weeks. During last week she resumed her household duties, although still weak from the effects of her illness. On Friday morning she went shopping and appeared to be in the best of spirits. She returned for lunch and went out again at 5 o'clock. She did not say where she was going. When she did not return for supper her brother and sister supposed that she had made a call on friends who live a short distance from their house and had remained to dine. Later in the evening these friends called at the bouse and said that they had seen nothing of her. As the evening wore on, and still Miss Stevens did not come home. Mr. Stevens became worried. At 12 o'clock that night he went to the Brooklyn Police Headquarters and had a general alarm sent out.

As he had heard nothing of his sister, Mr. Stevens decided to come to New York yesterday morning and notify the police of this city. On the way to the bridge he bought a newspaper and read an account of the suicide in the Park. Preparing himself for the worst, Mr. Stevens went directly to the Morgue instead of Police Headquarters. There he identified the dead woman as his sister.

It is believed that Miss Stevens killed herself in a fit of temporary insanity, which was the re-In a fit of temporary insanity, which was the result of the grip.

An interesting feature of the case is that Miss Stevens's identification would have been brought about, even if she had not been recognized by her brother, by means of certain numbers found on her shoes. Her shoes bore the firm mark of J. & T. Cousins of 498 Fulton street, Brooklyn. The size was 5 C. The number 7.284 was marked on the tongue, while 222 indicated the stock number. A SUN reporter called at the stock number. A SUN reporter called at the story esterday, before the identification, in the hope of tracing the woman by means of these numbers. The reporter saw Manager C. F. Case, and told him of his quest. Mr. Case then said that he had read an account of the woman's death in an evening newspaper and had seen the numbers. He immediately looked over his stock book until he came to the number 222. This referred him to the delivery slip, which gave the date of purchase and the buyer's name and address. The date of the slip was Nov. 10, 1895, and the address that of Miss Stevens at 141 Baltic street, Mr. Case went to that address yesterday morning and learned that Miss Stevens had moved to South Portland avenue.

street. Mr. Case went to that address yesterday morning and learned that Miss Stevens had moved to South Portland avenue.

Mr. Case said that ten years ago a burglar was caught and sentenced in Hartford through similar shee markings. Mr. Case had charge of the shoe store in Hartford at the time. A man had been robbed of considerable property. The Hartford police held a man suspected to be the burglar. The Chief of Police discovered the numbers in the shoes and brought them to Mr. Case, who looked up the numbers in his stock book. He then found the delivery slip, which gave the name and address of the man who had been robbed. In this way the chain of evidence was completed.

Coroner's Physician Schultz made an examination of Miss Stevens's body yesterday, and granted a permit for its removal to Brooklyn. The park police believe that she took poison before she shot herself. Yesterday morning Park Patrolman Connolly found a half-ounce bottle containing a few dregs of laudanum in the wisteria arbor at Seventy-second street, only a few feet from the place where the suicide was committed.

So far as the depositary banks are concerned the loss in cash is the result of withdrawals late last week of 20 P cent, of their Govern-ment deposits. A contraction of 216 millions n the loans is also about equally divided between banks directly interested in the floating of the Government loan and so-called mercantile institutions. It follows, of course, that the resultant decrease of $5,800,000 in the deposits is similarly distributed. The net result is a decrease in the surplus of a little less than $000,000. Twenty of the Associated Banks are now a little below the legal requirement in respect to reserve, but it is interesting to note that the two instientions that hold nearly two-thirds of the special Government deposits show reserves nearly equal to the amount of those deposits. nemasives in readiness to meet any demand the Government may make upon them without disturbing the money market, and while they hold themselves in that position they are helping to carry out the policy of the Treasury in assisting to keep that market at a level which will hold and possibly attract foreign capital. To-day's stock market was inactive within narrow limits, as it has been all the week. Prices as a rule showed a little improvement, owing partly to the manipula-tion of American Tobacco and also to the covering of shorts at the end of the week. Indications that the corn which has been held back along the lines of the Granger road is beginning to move caused some buying of C., B. and Quincy, St. Paul and Rock Island. The market for the first was also favorably affected by the statement of the company for February, published further on in this column.
